

Bradley Briggs
Director, Investor Relations & Capital Development
Nidhiksh Investments Inc.

Bradley Briggs is an investment management professional with over seven years of experience in capital raising, investor relations, and advisor-focused distribution across public and private markets. He has worked extensively with RIAs, broker-dealers, family offices, and accredited investors, specializing in institutional engagement, portfolio strategy communication, and relationship development. He currently supports Nidhiksh Investments Inc. in its capital raising initiatives.

Bradley also serves as Director of Investor Relations at Ceburon Group, where he leads investor engagement and capital development efforts for middle-market acquisition platforms. His responsibilities include capital structuring, strategic positioning for M&A transactions, and managing relationships with private equity firms and sophisticated investors. He works closely with deal teams on investment materials, platform strategy, and due diligence.

Previously, Bradley was a Regional Vice President and Hybrid Wholesaler at Zacks Investment Management, where he raised over $150 million in new assets by expanding advisor relationships and market reach. He also held roles at Merrill Lynch, Vanguard, Northwestern Mutual, and Fifth Third Bank.

Bradley began his career in the United States Marine Corps as an IAR Gunner, where he developed the discipline and leadership that continue to guide his professional approach. He holds FINRA Series 7, Series 63 and is working towards his CAIA designation.